Consent-management and auditing firm HIPAAT International, Naples, Fla., has named Kel Callahan president and chief operating officer.

Callahan takes on the role of president from company founder Terry Callahan, who will remain as managing director of the company until his retirement in the next two years. A company spokeswoman said Terry Callahan has also served informally as COO during his tenure. Terry Callahan is Kel Callahan's father.

Kel Callahan joined the firm in 2005, serving most recently as vice president of business development. HIPAAT declined to provide ages for either executive.
